Questions for those other trade union members,

- Why aren't you working for your BT union?
- What number are you on the BT hiring hall list?
- How much do you pay for BT union dues?
- If you're off work, do you still have to pay BT dues?
- Why are BT union jobs always over budget and late on completion? Do you think owners can afford that?
- BT companies cannot win jobs because of excess payroll burdens etc. that BT require.
- With all the layoffs will you ever qualify to receive your BT pension from an international union?
- Is your BT pension registered in Canada and does your money stay In Canada?
